HUSBAND SHOTS DOCTOR

Because Physician Paid Unwelcomed Attentions to His Wife

A SENSATION AT McHENRY

Dr. H. F. Beebe Shot by Llewellyn Colby Buy Will Recover from Two Bullet Wounds in Leg and Chest

Because he believed that Dr. H. F. Beebe was paying attentions to his wife, Monday Llewellyn Colby, of McHenry, Ill., shot and wounded the physician twice as the climax of a tragedy of jealousy.

The shooting came at the end of a long period of ill feeling between the two. Dr. Beebe will recover, the bullets being extracted, while Colby, who is not related to the Lake county Colbys, is out under $1,000 bonds.

Monday afternoon, towards dusk Beebe was making a professional call at the house across the street from that in which Colby resided, about a quarter of a mile out of McHenry.

Colby, who it is rumored, had been "looking for" the physician for some time, called him out of the house.

"Come over here," he is alleged to have said, standing in the roadway. "I want to speak to you."

Just as he neared Colby, the latter is alleged to have drawn a revolver and fired point blank at the unarmed man twice.

One bullet tore its way through the physician's leg and the other-blazed a cavity in his chest.

The physician was at once removed to his home in McHenry, where he received care. He is considered a reputable and respected practitioner and it is believed by McHenry people that Colby's charges are baseless and due to imagination.

It is even asserted that at the time of the affair, Colby had been drinking.

It is known that he is a drinking man, according to the people of McHenry, and he may have been under the influence of alcohol at the time of the tragedy.

Besides this, the former is said to be of a jealous disposition and the specific charge on which he shot the physician is that he had insulted Mrs. Colby.

Neighbors, however, say that there has been bad blood between the two for some time, Colby alleging that Beebe paid his wife undesired attentions.

HAD BOTH LEGS CUT OFF

Rev. John Moore, Formerly at the Liberty Church, Meets With Sad Death

The sad news was received here the fore part of this week, of the untimely death of Rev. John Moore, who about six years ago was pastor of the Liberty church.

While attempting to board a train at Douglas, Wyoming, he in some unaccountable manner, fell under the wheels of the car and both legs were severed from his body. He was immediately taken to his home and the best of medical aid summoned but he survived the shock but a short time when death relieved him of his sufferings.

Rev. Moore was about thirty-five years of age and leaves a widow and two little girls to mourn his loss.

Rev. Moore is well known to the people of Antioch and vicinity for during his stay at Liberty he often spoke at this place and when he departed left behind many friends who grieve to learn of his sad death.

The remains were buried at Cheyenne, Wyoming.

HORSE STOLEN AT WADSWORTH

A horse thief gang has begun operations throughout the country. Monday morning Sheriff Pfennig was notified that thieves had entered the stables of Julius Backbarth on the Plank road in the town of Bristol, during the night and had stolen a horse, buggy and harness.

Later in the morning the sheriff was notified that a horse had been stolen from the barn of Peter Meyers of Wadsworth. It is thought probable that the same gang is responsible for both crimes. Backbarth had shut up his barn late Friday night and the disappearance of the horse and other property was not discovered until early next morning. The sheriff word to all the clites in the neighborhood and every possible effort is being made to get some trace of the thieves.

AN OLD RESIDENT GONE

Charles P. Sabin, a Pioneer Settler of Wisconsin, Died here Friday Last

On Sunday morning of last week occurred the death of Charles P. Sabin, father of D. B. and E. C. Sabin of this place, at the home of his son Delbert in this village. Mr. Sabin had been in poor health for the past two years or more, and for the past few months had been confined to the house and most of that time was unable to leave his bed and needed almost constant care which was willingly and gladly given him by his sons and their families. It was evident to those about him that his strength was slowly but steadily ebbing away and they could see him failing day by day until on Friday last the end came and he quietly passed away at the age of seventy-eight years three months and eighteen days.

Charles P. Sabin was born at Cazenovia Madison county, N. Y. on the twenty-fourth day of December in the year of 1828, and came with his parents to Salem Kenosha county in 1845, when he was eight years of age. He grew to manhood at that place and there many years of his life were spent. On the fifth day of January 1862, when he had reached the age of twenty-four years he was united in marriage to Miss Amanda M. Bliss, also of Salem, and to this union five sons were born: Morris E., Delbert B., Ellis C., Harry S., and Eugene J. On the twenty-first day of November 1884 death for the first time entered the hitherto unbroken family circle and removed therefrom the loving wife and mother.

The following year, 1885, Mr. Sabin with his five sons, left the place which had for so many years been his home and settled at Whitewater, Wis., his incentive for this move being better educational advantages for his sons, and he was rewarded by the knowledge that each of his sons started out in life unhampered for the want of an education. He remained at Whitewater until the year of 1893 when he came to this place where two of his sons were then located, and since then has made his home with his son, Delbert most of the time.

In the early part of his life he was converted to the Christian faith and has for many years been a member of the Methodist church and lead an upright Christian life.

About five years ago one of his sons, Eugene, was called to the land of rest. He leaves to mourn his loss four sons, Morris, of Washington, D. C. and Harry S. of Hamilton, Ohio, and Ellis and Delbert of this place.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with Rev. F. R. McNamer officiating, and was attended by a large concourse of friends. The remains were laid at rest beside those of his wife on the family lot in Liberty cemetery.

WILL BUILD A LODGE HALL

The Grays Lake Masons Have Decided to Have a New Home

The Grayslake Masonic lodge has decided to erect a lodge hall at that village and have contracted for a lot for that purpose. Full arrangements as to plans for the building, method of raising the necessary money, etc., will be made at a meeting to be held in the near future.

The Phil Flary lot on Hawley street, adjoining the Village Hall on the west, has been contracted for, and one of the plans suggested is that the building will be two stories, constructed of either brick or concrete blocks, the upper floor to be arranged for lodge purposes exclusively, and the lower floor will have a commodious kitchen in the rear with a large dining hall in front.

However definite plans and arrangements will be made at a meeting to be held soon.

COMMUTATION TICKETS MUST GO

The prospects are that with the passage of the 2-cent fare bill, the Northwestern will abolish the familiar commutation tickets to Chicago, as it has done in the state of Wisconsin.

In the state of Wisconsin it is impossible to get any form of commutation ticket on this line and the commuter is an institution of the past, as are the numerous ticket agencies.

The only survival of this form of ticket in Wisconsin is the monthly ticket. The new bill for the 2-cent fare, which is up to the Governor, means a straight 2-cent a mile if fare is paid before boarding the train or 8 cents a mile if fare is paid on the train.

The commutation ticket has become so commonly used that the public in general has lost sight of the regular fare.

WAGE WAR AGAINST MARRIAGE

Beilhart, of the Spirit Fruit Cult, to Call on All to Dissolve the Marriage Vows

TO BEGIN CAMPAIGN IN JUNE

He Will Call a Meeting at His Oriental Palace at Wooster Lake to Which all Lake County Will Be Invited

Jacob Beilhart, father of the Spirit Fruit Cult, is preparing to shake the world's civilization to its foundation even as did John Alexander Dowie.

Beginning in June, he will open a campaign for the total abolition of marriage and the substitution of his own peculiar doctrine of spontaneous love.

He will call a meeting at his oriental palace at Wooster Lake, in June, to which all of Lake county will be invited. There the people will be called upon to abjure their marriage vows, which "Father Jacob" will dissolve.

This will be the opening shot in a proposed world-wide crusade against marriage by the peculiar prophet who believes that the mother shall choose who shall be the father of her offspring.

The colony has at present two children, off-spring of spontaneous love. Nameless, parentless, all members of the colony uniting to support them they toddle about the Sybaritic temple and listen to learned theories while Father Jacob and Nehal Singh, an Eastern Pandit, converse in high-flown terms of religion and philosophy.

The colony is one of the most remarkable in the world and has not yet seen its growth, its rise and its possible decay.

The eyes of the world are soon to turn to Wooster Lake.

Like the cowboy who rode into the town with the cry, "Hurray for trouble," Beilhart is now going out to stir the world. The cowboy, according to legend, found trouble and a plenty. Beilhart expects to also and is prepared.

When he was driven from Lisbon, Ohio, two years ago, at the instance of the state's attorney, and an infuriated populace, he thought he had trouble, but what he is expecting to stir-up now will make the trouble of the past look like a poor imitation.

When interviewed he stated that he was about to start a crusade against marriage such as the world has never known.

For two years he has lain dormant. But all that time his plans have been slowly formulating. He has during the two years built his home and is ready for the one great effort of his life.

In twenty-five years, he says, there will be no such thing as marriage. People will come to realize the falsity of the marriage vow. "The preachers," he smiled, ironically, "will be against me, for they will so miss the marriage fees."

PULLS OVER KETTLE OF BOILING LARD

A year old babe, the son of J. Bedurske, of Libertyville, on Thursday evening of last week, was terribly burned with hot lard. The mother had left the pot of lard upon the stove and was busying herself about the kitchen when the little one unnoticed toddled across the floor and reaching up grasped the protruding handle of the utensil.

In a second the little one tottered and fell to the floor pulling the hot lard over on top of it.

Physicians were summoned, and it was found that the child had burned its face and arm so that in all probability it will be scarred for life, but it is not thought that the burns will prove fatal.

BURNS KILL GIRL

Child Burned to Death by Fire Started in Play.

On Monday morning at eleven o'clock, little Ruth Lacon, of Winthrop Harbor, was burned to death by a prairie fire, in sight of her mother who saw the child enveloped in flames, and then fell unconscious.

The children with whom the Lacon girl was playing, started a grass fire in the southern part of the village, and the flames gathering speed as they caught on new material, swept to the child's feet and lapped up her garments in an instant.

A sheet of flame she ran screaming to and fro for aid in vain. When the mother came and saw her child burning she fell to the ground in a faint.

TRUST FIGHT IS ON

People of Pleasant Prairie Seek to Stop Storing of Dynamite in County

JUDGE PARISH TRIES CASE

Attorney for the Great Powder Combine States the Companies Seek to Have the Case Tried on Its Merits

The big suit of Lafayette Sturdevant, attorney for the state of Wisconsin, in behalf of the people of Pleasant Prairie vs. J. Amory Haskell, The Ladin-Rand Powder company, the Dupont Powder company and Joseph Steinbach, the agent for the combine at Pleasant Prairie, began in the Kenosha Circuit Court Saturday morning. By a stipulation of the attorneys the case is being heard by the court and not by a jury. This matter is of the utmost importance to the people of Pleasant Prairie and many of them were in attendance at the hearing Saturday. None of the officials of the powder companies were present, but many of the practical men employed in the manufacture of powder were there to testify.

In the opening statement of the case the attorneys for the people made no statement beyond what was contained in the complaint in the action in which it was stated that there were large quantities of dynamite and giant powder stored on the premises owned by the company and that it was stored in such quantities as to menace the life of the people of the village.

Mr. Cavanaugh, attorney for the Powder companies stated that he would show that there was positively no danger to the people of Pleasant Prairie from the storing of dynamite and that the companies owning the plant had taken every precaution to eliminate danger. He stated that it was absolutely necessary for the company to store explosives on the premises in order for them to be able to do business. He declared that the company would admit that $150,000 pounds of dynamite had been stored in the dynamite magazine at the plant but that it was being moved as rapidly as possible.

A former employe of the plant testified as to the capacity of the different magazines and the amount of powder usually stored, stating that the greatest amount of blasting powder stored on the premises was 2,225,000 pounds. He testified that on two occasions there had been prairie fires in which the buildings of the plant and at one time the people of the village had gone to the plant to aid in fighting the fire.

WILL RAISE SALARIES OF TEACHERS

The salaries of at least one hundred teachers in Waukegan and Lake County will be raised if the bill now before the legislature becomes a law.

The bill which establishes the minimum monthly salary at $40 was passed by the house on Tuesday and bids fair to become an active measure. Under the terms of the bill no teacher in the state shall be paid less than $40 per month and for periods less than one month $2 per day must be paid.

According to County Superintendent T. A. Simpson about one third of the two hundred teachers in the county outside of Waukegan are receiving less than $40 per month, so the bill if passed, will have a decided effect in this county. The teachers salaries range from $30 to $45 per month, with the greater part near the $40 mark.

There are about 150 schools in the county that is one room schools where one teacher is employed, and it is there where the salaries are less than $40 a month. In the other schools in the county, where there is more than one room and more than one teacher the salary ranges above $40 per month.

About 5 of the 55 teachers employed in the city schools are below the amount specified in the house bill and substitutes employed generally in periods of less than one month receive $1 per day.

The bill is modified after the Ohio law, which state has had a measure in force for some years. Other states have also followed the action of Ohio and raised the general standard of teacher's salaries.

First See Thyself. The time many people give to worry over the depravity of the world might be given to self-analysis and meditation.—Exchange.

DEATH OF MRS. SHANNON

At Her Home at Channel Lake Monday Night from Pneumonia

On Monday evening word was received here of the death of Mrs. E. E. Shannon of Channel, which occurred at her home at that place. At first it was with difficulty that the report could be believed for only Friday of last week she was in town apparently in as good health as ever.

The cause of her death was pronounced pneumonia, from which disease she suffered only three days and her death coming as it did so unexpectedly was a severe shock to her family who could scarcely realize her precarious condition.

Mrs. Shannon was born at Oak Park, Illinois, in the year of 1864, and was united in marriage to E. E. Shannon in the year of 1889 and has since that time lived at Channel. To them nine children were born, six sons and three daughters, the eldest of whom is seventeen years of age and the youngest only four, who will henceforth be deprived of a mother's care, words of encouragement and advice, and tender sympathy. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her devoted husband and children, her mother Mrs. Worswick, three brothers and three sisters and a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The funeral was held at the M. E. church at this place at 3:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon with Rev. F. R. McNamer officiating. The interment took place at Antioch Hillside cemetery.

OVERWORK CAUSED DEATH

Tragic Fate that Overtook a Gurnee Youth as Result of Nervous Shock

John Henry Faulkner, aged sixteen, apparently in the best of health, and residing near Gurnee, walked away from the family residence after answering sharp questions of his father in regard to a rubbish fire he had started Saturday.

He had proceeded but a few steps when he threw up his hands and fell dead.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death caused by nervous shock induced by overwork.

Young Faulkner was taking the straw covering from strawberry beds Saturday. As he gathered the heaps together he set them afire.

The flames spread until they caught onto the vines and the house was in danger. After working hard to put out the fire Faulkner's father questioned him sharply as to why he had built the fire and in a few moments the lad walked away, only to topple over.

WAUKEGAN MAN TO FOUND A KANSAS CITY

By receipt of a telegram from his partner in Mead, Kansas, H. C. Horning, proprietor of the Hotel Washburn, Waukegan, was informed of the success of an undertaking in which the two have been engaged for some time. The telegram simply stated that the Jasper deal had gone through but it meant that a large section of land had been purchased by A. T. Bode, Jr., Mr. Horning's partner, from a large wheat company there and that all was in readiness for the opening up of the city which is planned by the two men.

Jasper is a wheat loading station a few miles west of Meade, the county seat of Meade county, Kansas, and is in the southwestern part of the state. It is located in the arctesian well district and the soil of the country is extremely fertile.

Mr. Horning and his partner owned considerable land in the neighborhood but were unable to buy a large tract which they needed to stake out a town site. By admitting to partnership a man named Paul E. Walker, who it interested in the Oklahoma and Canadian River railway, a new road there which is building a branch of the Rock Island, they secured the coming of the railroad to Jasper and the erection of a fine depot.

A large store, a coal and lumber business was also secured for the new town and many people contracted to buy land when the site was staked out.

The buying of the land now opens up the way and everything will be rushed through to completion. Mr. Horning intends to take a trip to Jasper about May 21, and will take with him several interested men.

WISCONSIN CENTRAL IN TWO SUITS

Two suits were last week filed against the Wisconsin Central railroad, loop out of the limelight of the Lake County litigation. One is filed through Orvis & Edwards by Orpha Howard of Koltze, Cook county for $20,000 personal injury damages months ago and the other is filed through the same attorneys for a Grayslake man against the same road for $300 damages for the death by rail of two cows and the injury of two others.

START A NEW SURVEY

Two Gangs of Surveyors at Work on Right of Way Through Bristol

IS OVER PRIVATE GROUND

Men Said to be in the Employ of the Chicago, Kenosha, Milwaukee and Lake Geneva Road

Our neighboring town of Bristol seems to be the bone of contention for whatever enterprise heads that way. A few weeks ago two milk companies from Chicago were striving for the purchase of a plant at that place. Now two electric railroad companies are vying with each other in securing the most suitable right of way through that place. The people of Bristol are beginning to sit up and take notice for it is quite evident that their town is to be the battle ground for the Chicago and Kenosha and the Chicago, Kenosha, Milwaukee and Lake Geneva Railway companies, and on Tuesday of last week representatives of both the companies were at work in the town laying out a right of way for a road west from Kenosha to the lake regions. The members of the party representing the Chicago, and Milwaukee road made the trip in automobiles looking over the property along the Geneva road from Kenosha, straight west to the limits of the county.

There were no surveyors with the party, as the surveyors of the Chicago and Milwaukee road had already made a trip through the territory and have filed a report with the officials as to the most advantageous route for a road between Kenosha and Lake Geneva. Less than half a mile south of the place where the Frost people were making their investigation, two gangs of surveyors, said to be in the employ of the Chicago Kenosha, Milwaukee and Lake Geneva road were at work, and they were laying out the right of way through private property.

Stakes are being set for a right of way a hundred feet in width and it is evident that the company is planning to avoid the big hills along the Geneva road by building a line to the south of the traveled road thus making it possible for them to find a more level stretch of territory and at the same time get a more direct line from Kenosha to the west. The line proposed by the surveyors of the Chicago and Milwaukee road would stick close to the highways and it is evident that the company plans to get a right of way from the farmers at a very low rate.

The coming of the two companies of surveyors has stirred up quite a little excitement among the people of the town and they seem to think that the coming of the electric line is a matter of the very near future. The right of way being laid out by the Grover men seems to be the most pleasing one to the family of Bristol as it will in no way interfere with the uses of the highways by the farmers and at the same time it will touch nearly all of the lake regions of the county.

The promoters of this company have repeatedly stated that it is their plan to build the line to the west just as soon as they can get the right of way.

Should the right of way now being selected be acceptable to the company it would be necessary to institute many actions for condemnation as many of the farmers would object to the company taking portions of their farms without proper payment.

SUDDEN DEATH OF JOHN KIMBALL AT SPRING GROVE

On Tuesday of last week occurred the sudden death of John Kimball, an old resident of Spring Grove. At the time of his death he was seventy-two years of age and was employed in doing light work at Col. Vidvard's, west of the river.

On Tuesday morning he was apparently in as good health as ever, and was busying himself about the place as usual. In the course of his duties he found it necessary to use some nails and reached up to a shelf to procure the same. Just as he reached up however, he staggered and dropped to the floor dead, heart disease being the cause of his demise.

He is survived by one sister, a Mrs. Hatch of Spring Grove. The funeral was held at the Vidvard home on Thursday. The remains were buried at Spring Grove.

SPANISH HEIR BORN

QUEEN VICTORIA AND HER SON ARE DOING WELL.

CEREMONY IN THE PALACE

Royal Baby Formally Presented by the Happy King—Congratulations from All Over the World.

Madrid.—The news that the direct male succession to the throne of Spain had been assured by the birth Friday of a son to Queen Victoria sent a thrill of rejoicing throughout the country, and Friday night the happy event was celebrated from one end of the land to the other.

Queen Victoria and the child are both doing well.

The hurried departure of royal messengers from the palace at ten o'clock in the morning to summon the courtiers and the members of the diplomatic corps gave the first indication that the birth was imminent. The usual gathering outside the palace courtyard was soon swelled by immense throngs of the excited populace.

The crowd waited in suspense until nearly one o'clock, when the thundering out of the first cannon shot signified that the royal accouchement was over.

Soon after the royal salute the flags of Spain and Great Britain were raised over all the public buildings of Madrid.

In the meanwhile the solemn ceremony of presentation was being carried out inside the palace. The mistress of the robes, carrying a huge silver tray upon which was lying the newly born royal baby, accompanied by King Alfonso and Premier Maura, appeared in the ante-chamber where the courtiers had assembled.

The young monarch appeared full of joy as the premier, raising the drapery which covered the infant on the tray, said: "Gentlemen, it is a prince."

The solemn dignitaries thereupon forgot all etiquette and cheered both the king and the queen heartily. The minister of justice, Marquis Figueroa, made out the birth certificate, which was signed by all the prominent personages present. The gathering then broke up.

King Alfonso telegraphed the good news to the pope, King Edward and the heads of other states, and later the congratulations began to come in.

According to a decree of the Spanish government, the son born to King Alfonso and Queen Victoria will bear the title of Prince of the Asturias. The principality of the Asturias formerly was the mountain refuge of the aboriginal inhabitants of Spain, who remained there unconquered by Roman or Moor. In many respects the Asturias is regarded as the cradle of the Spanish monarchy, hence the pride taken in the title of the prince of the Asturias.

Queen Victoria, mother of the royal infant, was married to King Alfonso in Madrid May 31, 1906, amid scenes of the greatest splendor, followed by the horror of a bomb explosion which killed scores of people and narrowly missed the royal coach in which their majesties were returning from church.

Strike Threatened at South Omaha.
Omaha, Neb.—A committee representing 5,000 packing workmen in the South Omaha packing houses Thursday morning called on the managers of the plants and asked for increased wages. A strike is threatened if the increase is not granted. The packers asked time to discuss the matter with the Chicago heads of the companies. The workmen who are making the demands were granted an increase only last Monday.

Railways Are Indicted.
New York.—Indictments charging violation of the Elkins anti-rebating act were handed down by a federal grand jury Tuesday against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, Ontario & Western railroad, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad and the Western Transit company.

Will Fill Strikers' Places.
New York.—The resident heads of the steamship companies included in the International Mercantile Marine company served notice upon the striking longshoremen that unless the latter returned to work within a week their places would be filled.

DRUG TRUST IS ENJOINED

DECREE ENTERED AT INDIANAPOLIS AGAINST COMBINE.

Price Agreements and Blacklists, Threats and Other Means of Enforcing Are Prohibited.

Indianapolis, Ind.—The so-called "drug trust" was perpetually enjoined Thursday from continuing its operations by the entering of a decree in the United States circuit court for the district of Indiana on the complaint of the United States government. The defendants, 92 in number, who are members, officers, directors, agents and attorneys of the National Association of Retail Druggists, the National Wholesale Druggists' association, tripartite proprietors, "blacklist manufacturers," "direct contract proprietors," "wholesale contract proprietors," and Charles C. Bombaugh, are perpetually enjoined from combining and conspiring to restrain trade in drugs, fix prices by agreement, blacklist retailers who cut prices, or to refuse to sell to any retailer on equal terms.

All publication of blacklists is forbidden and all contracts and agreements covered by the charges are declared void. The direct contract serial number plan is prohibited as well as the securing of the adoption of schedules for the sale of drugs.

The "direct contract proprietors" are enjoined from continuing the direct contract serial plan and from cooperating with any of the other defendants in carrying out such a plan. They are enjoined from requiring any dealer from entering into a contract restraining trade in the articles of their manufacture, and from placing serial numbers on the retail packages for the purpose of keeping records and tracing sales and from requiring the vendee to keep records of and report sale by serial numbers. All acts tending to restrict the free purchase of the articles or their manufacture are forbidden.

The same prohibitions are ordered against the "wholesale contract proprietors" and they are further enjoined from securing the adoption of schedules for the sale of the articles of their manufacture and of other articles in any market.

The decree entered Thursday was dictated by the government attorneys and agreed to by the defendants. With the entering of the decree the litigation came to an end with a complete victory for the government.

FRISCO POLICEMEN ACCUSED.

Arrested Strikebreakers Say They Were Beaten and Starved.

San Francisco.—Twelve of the non-union car operatives who were arrested Tuesday afternoon for shooting in the tragic Turk street battle were released Thursday morning on bail furnished by the United railroads.

According to these men, they were severely beaten by the police after they had been taken under arrest to the Central station. The assert that they were deprived of beds, food and water.

Mayor Schmitz Thursday summoned 50 leading citizens to advise him as to means of meeting the grave crisis which the city is facing. No further fatalities are reported as the result of the riot on Tuesday. Including John Buchanan, who died Wednesday night, the death record has been limited so far to two, with three others of the wounded in a precarious condition.

Strike breakers continue to arrive from the east and a number of additional cars carrying men for the company are reported on the way. The men are from the big cities of the east and those who handled the cars in service Wednesday are Kentuckians. A detachment of 40 men arrived in this city Wednesday night, and proceeded to the barns.

NINETY MINERS ARE KILLED.

Fire in Mexican Mine Causes Terrible Loss of Life.

Mexico City.—According to a dispatch which was received from the city of Torreon, Coahuila, at a late hour Sunday, 90 lives were lost in a fire which occurred in the Cornethas shaft of the Ternera group of mines in the town of Velardena, state of Durango.

The fire started Friday night in an abandoned shaft. At the time there were 107 men working in another part of the mine and but 17 of them escaped. Thirty-five bodies have been recovered.

"Gentleman Burglar" Convicted.
Chicago.—Edwin Tate, known as "the gentleman burglar," and recently notorious as escaping from the Peoria police after being charged with the blowing up of a safe to destroy evidence against Newton C. Dougherty, was convicted Friday on a charge of entering and robbing the residence of J. G. Flint, 3729 Indiana avenue, on September 28, 1906.

Murderer of Clara West Convicted.
Springfield, Mo.—The jury in the case of Garland Moore, who stabbed Clara West to death because she jilted him, returned a verdict Tuesday finding him guilty of murder in the second degree and fixing his punishment at 25 years in the penitentiary.

Two Killed in Collision.
Birmingham, Ala.—An extra freight on the S. A. L. collided with the engine of a work train near Piedmont, Ala., Tuesday morning, and two men were killed and nine injured.

ANOTHER HEAD NEEDS TRIMMING.

THIRTY-ONE SHRINERS MEET DEATH IN A TRAIN WRECK

DEFECTIVE SWITCH CAUSES TERRIBLE ACCIDENT IN CALIFORNIA—VICTIMS HORRIBLY SCALDED AND BURNED.

Santa Barbara, Cal.—While hurrying northward over the coast line of the Southern Pacific railroad Saturday afternoon, homeward bound after a week of fraternalizing and festa in Los Angeles, 145 Shriners of Ismailia temple of Buffalo, and Rajah temple, of Reading, with their families and friends, were hurled into the midst of death.

Their special train, running 50 miles an hour, struck a defective switch at Honda, a lonely station on the sand wastes of the Pacific beach, derailing the train, smashing the coaches into splinters, killing 31 almost instantly and injuring more than a score of others. The bodies of 21 lie in the morgues of Santa Barbara and ten more are at San Luis Obispo.

The statement that the train was making terrific speed when it struck the defective track is borne out by the fact that it covered the 61 miles of curves and crooked track between here and Honda in exactly 100 minutes.

There was no warning of the impending calamity. The special plunged upon the defective switch, and in an instant the big locomotive, baggage car, diner and Pullman were hurled together in a huge heap of wreckage. The engine shot forward on the broken track, tearing up the rails and ties and twisting the iron spans into fish hooks. The baggage car half buried itself in the sand on the right side of the locomotive.

The dining car in which were 32 persons eating their noonday meal, leaped into the air and was thrown directly on top of the demolished locomotive. Nearly every person in this coach was instantly killed. Scores were scalded by steam escaping from disconnected pipes in the kitchen of the diner.

The terror and turmoil of the scene was indescribable. Many of those who escaped instant death by the first impact were crushed by the rear coaches hurled upon the wreckage. Others, plumed in the debris, were roasted alive. The wreckage caught fire from the coals of the engine, but was extinguished in a few minutes by the passengers who escaped injury.

Engineer Frank Champlain was pitched with his cab 25 feet beyond the engine and got up and ran three-quarters of a mile, seeking help, before he discovered that his arm was broken and that he was severely scalded. A man standing behind his wife in the baggage car was hurled through a huge rent in the roof and alighted in soft sand almost uninjured. The woman was forced through the floors and wreckers had to lift tons of baggage to get her body out.

There were countless deeds of courage and heroic self-sacrifice. A. D. Hagerman, of Reading, Pa., refused the aid of his brother nobles after they had dragged him, fatally hurt, from the wreck.

"I am dying," he said, "go help the women."

Sander Deabald, of Cleveland, worked heroically but unavailingly to save the lives of two women plumed beneath the diner. The flames had broken out amid the wreckage and were burning all about the prostrate forms of women. Burrowing his way down into the smoldering, splintered wreck, Deabald, with a hose which he had wrenched from a coach connection, spouted water from an adjacent tank and extinguished the flames. Then he reached down and, after cutting away the broken timbers that held her fast, took Mrs. William W. Eslek, of Reading, from the ruins. She was begging piteously for relief when Deabald reached her. As he lifted her from the wreckage a stream of boiling water poured over her, searing her body terribly. She expired a few minutes later and Deabald was forced back into the sleeper, unable to longer endure the harrowing sights.

Henry J. Fischer, of Cleveland, O., went under protest with his wife and daughter, Miss Cora Young and Mrs. John W. Cutler, to the baggage car. The three women were killed and he escaped almost unharmed from the wreck of the car.

A. D. Wasson, of Buffalo, was eating at a corner table. He was within six inches of the hot water tanks. When the rescuers neared him he yelled encouragingly. Dragged from under the range of the scalding steam, he murmured, "Thank God," and died.

His wife and three-year-old baby were with him on the train and escaped injury.

Coroner Ruiz began his inquest Sunday afternoon on the bodies of the victims. Joel H. Prescott, of Buffalo, was the first witness. He testified that the train was running at a high rate of speed at the time of the accident. In answer to question of the district attorney Prescott said that the relief train from Santa Barbara reached the wreck shortly after five o'clock. The accident occurred at 2:35. The relief train started back at seven o'clock and did not reach Santa Barbara until 1:30 a. m., or six and a half hours after leaving the wreck, taking that long to cover a distance of 61 miles. The relief train was held on a siding about 14 miles north of Santa Barbara for two hours with its freight of dead. Prescott said he examined the ground in the vicinity of the switch and discovered that a point of a switch rail was broken off, evidently by the train. This caused the train to leave the track. An examination of the switch showed that it was not closed.

LOCKED UP IN HIS OWN JAIL.

Jailer of Newport, Ky., Caught in Raid on Crap Game.

Cincinnati.—As a result of anti-gambling agitation in Newport, Ky., a peculiar situation has developed in connection with numerous arrests. Saturday night Chief Lickert, assisted by nearly every member of the police force, raided a crap game almost opposite police headquarters. The proprietor and about 25 well known citizens were caught, several of whom claimed to be only spectators, and every cell in the jail was crowded. It was long after midnight before the last of the prisoners succeeded in securing bond and was released.

City Jailer Ben Ploeger was among those captured and he experienced the unusual sensation of being locked up in his own jail. It was found necessary to release Ploeger on bond first so that he could in turn officially release the others as fast as bond was offered.

WHEAT PASSES $1.00

THE CEREAL HAS AN EXCITING DAY IN CHICAGO.

A WILD DAY ON BOARD

General Belief in Heavy Crop Shortage Is Assigned as the Cause—Soon Drops Back Again.

Chicago.—Wheat hit the dollar mark Monday with apparently the board of trade "brain-storm."

The even figure was reached by both September and December lines, with the trade spreading wider and wider. Foreign buying orders swelled the demand and in New York the price went beyond $1.03.

September opened at 95c to 96c. Soon it sold at $1, and while the bulls were throwing up their headgear the price toppled to 99c and 98c. A return in the pits before the closing was predicted, also that the next time it would keep its balance.

July wheat opened at 93 to 95c. Next it sold at 96c and 97c. Saturday it closed at 91 1/2c, while September halted at 93 1/2c.

The arrival at the dollar mark was the climax of the bull stampede. A week ago dollar wheat was spoken of in the same vague way in which reference was made to real spring weather.

The opening trade in wheat was the wildest in the history of the board of trade. Brokers who have been on 'change for 20 or 30 years say they never have witnessed anything equal to the excitement of the first 15 minutes of trading. There is no way of estimating the volume of business transacted within that period.

To what extent this speculative craze will be carried no one can tell. The public has become thoroughly inoculated with the fever of wheat speculation, board of trade men say.

BIG LAKE BOAT BURNS.

Steamer City of Cleveland, Nearly Finished, Destroyed.

Detroit.—The magnificent passenger steamer City of Cleveland, under construction at the plant of the Detroit Shipbuilding company for the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company, to run between Detroit and Cleveland, was destroyed by fire early Monday. The loss, which falls upon the shipbuilding company, is about $700,000.

The City of Cleveland was launched at Wyandotte Jan. 5 and was to have been completed about June 30. She was 44 feet long and was designed to carry 4,500 passengers with sleeping accommodations for 1,500. The interior woodwork and fittings were almost completed and the machinery and boilers had been installed.

The City of Cleveland was to be the largest side-wheel steamer on fresh water, and her interior woodwork was exceptionally beautiful. The cost of the boat was to be $1,250,000.

OHIO CONFERENCE CALLED OFF.

The Republican State Central Committee Did Not Meet.

Akron, O.—United States Senator Charles Dick, who is chairman of the Republican state central committee, Monday night issued a statement calling off the order for a conference at Columbus Wednesday of members of the state central committee, Republican members of congress, county chairmen, state officers and Republican leaders generally. The call for the conference was issued last week and gave for its object the discussion of means of reconciling clashing interests of political leaders in this state and maintaining harmony in the party.

Senator Dick, according to statements of his friends, feels that he has done all possible to bring about peace and as chairman of the executive committee now leaves the matter to party.

The Corey-Gilman Wedding.
New York.—In order to escape the unlucky thirteenth of the month, William Ellis Corey, president of the United States Steel corporation, and Mabelle Gilman, the former actress, were not married until after midnight Tuesday morning. The ceremony took place in the Royal suite at the Hotel Gotham, Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, in the presence of a small party of friends of the contracting couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Clark, pastor of the Bushwick Avenue Congregational church, of Brooklyn.

Medical Bill Signed.
Albany, N. Y.—Gov. Hughes Monday night signed the bill on public health, revolutionizing the system of state control of the practice of medicine, known as the "Medical Unification bill." It creates a new definition of the practice of medicine, more sweeping than the old and substitutes one board of medical examiners under the auspices of the board of regents in place of three boards now having jurisdiction and representing the allopathic, homoeopathic, and eclectic state medical societies.

STOMACH ON STRIKE

SUCCESSFUL TONIC TREATMENT FOR INDIGESTION.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured This Woman and Have Cured Many Hundreds of Other Cases of Common Ailments.

Loss of appetite, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, heavy dull headache and a dull, sluggish feeling—these are the symptoms of stomach indigestion. They indicate that the stomach is on a strike; that it is no longer furnishing to the blood the full quota of nourishment that the body demands, hence every organ suffers.

There are two methods of treatment, the old one by which the stomach is humored by the use of predigested foods and artificial ferments, and the new one by which the stomach is toned up to do the work which nature intended it to do. The work which nature intended it to do is to digest the food and to absorb its nutriment. The old method is that of Mrs. Mary Stackpole, of 81 Liberty street, Lowell, Mass. She says: "I suffered constantly for years from stomach trouble and terrible backaches and was confined to my bed the greater part of three years. I was under the care of our family physician most of the time, but did not seem to get better."

"I was completely run-down and was not able to do my work about the house. My blood was impure and my complexion pale. I suffered from flashes of heat, followed suddenly by chills. I had awful headaches, which lasted from three to four days. I could get but little rest at night, as my sleep was broken and fitful. As a result I lost several pounds in weight and became very nervous."

"I was in a wretched condition when I heard about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I started to take the pills at once and began to gain in weight and health. I was encouraged by this to keep on until I was cured. My friends and neighbors often remark what a changed woman I am and I owe it all to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These wonderful pills are useful in a wide range of diseases such as anemia, rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, nervous headaches, and every locomotor ataxia and partial paralysis. The great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills lies in the fact that they actually make new blood and thus carries health and strength to every portion of the body. The stomach is toned up, the nerves are strengthened, every organ is stimulated to do its work.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

NEY TROUBLE

Two Years—Relieved In Three Months.

C. B. FIZER.

Mr. C. B. FIZER, Mt. Sterling, Ky., writes:

"I have suffered with kidney and bladder trouble for ten years past. Last March I commenced using Peruna and continued for three months. I have not used it since, nor have I felt a pain."

"I believe that I am well and I therefore give my highest commendation to the curative qualities of Peruna."

Peruna for Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Geo. H. Simser, Grant, Ontario, Can., writes:

"I had not been well for about four years. I had kidney trouble, and, in fact, felt badly nearly all the time."

"This summer I got so very bad I thought I would try Peruna, so I wrote to you and began at once to take Peruna and Manalin."

"I took only two bottles of Peruna and one of Manalin, and now I feel better than I have for some time."

"I feel that Peruna and Manalin cured me and made a different woman of me altogether. I like the day I picked up the little book and read of your Peruna."

It is the business of the kidneys to remove from the blood all poisonous materials. They must be active all the time, else the system suffers. There are times when they need a little assistance."

Peruna is exactly this sort of a remedy. It has saved many people from disaster by rendering the kidneys service at a time when they were not able to bear their own burdens."

Use for Worthless Stocks.

"Wildcat mining stocks are not altogether useless — or, worthless, either," said a downtown broker who handles cheap mining stocks, the other day as he hung up the telephone receiver. "Here's a man who has just offered me $50 for enough mining stocks to have a face value of $50,000. He wasn't particular what stocks he got if they only had a paper value of $50,000. I closed the deal and shall make money on it, too. What did he want with such stocks? Well, I haven't the slightest doubt but that he is getting ready to go into the bankruptcy court and wants to show his creditors where his money has been dropped. We often get such requests and are usually able to fill them."—N. Y. Sun.

An Indian's View of an Organ.

After a while curiosity led me back to the sod house, and I saw for the first time how the white woman pumps so much air into a box that when she presses on the top board it howls convulsively. I forgot my bashfulness so far as to listen openly and enjoy the operation, wondering much how the white man puts a pair of lungs into a box, which is furnished with a whole set of black and white teeth, and when he sings to it it appears to answer him. This is how the white people teach their children to do things, I thought.—From the Outlook—Dr. Charles A. Eastman's "School days of an Indian."

The Bright Side.

"Oh, this poverty!" wailed the beautiful woman when her shifty-eyed husband came home. "The gas and electric companies have shut off their service because you have not paid their bills."

"Well, we can use candles," consoled the husband.

"And the telephone company has disconnected our instrument because we owe them two months' rental."

"So much the better. If anyone tries to ring us up to spend the evening with us they will think we are not at home."—Judge.

CHANGE IN FOOD

Works Wonders in Health.

It is worth knowing that a change in food can cure dyspepsia. "I deem it my duty to let you know how Grape-Nuts food has cured me of indigestion."

"I had been troubled with it for years, until last year my doctor recommended Grape-Nuts food to be used every morning. I followed instructions and now I am entirely well."

"The whole family like Grape-Nuts, we use four packages a week. You are welcome to use this testimonial as you see fit."

The reason this lady was helped by the use of Grape-Nuts food, is that it is predigested by natural processes and therefore does not tax the stomach as the food she had been using. It also contains the elements required for building up the nervous system. If that part of the human body is in perfect working order, there can be no dyspepsia, for nervous energy represents the steam that drives the engine."

When the nervous system is run down, the machinery of the body works badly. Grape-Nuts food can be used by small children as well as adults. It is perfectly cooked and ready for instant use."

WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE

New Laws Passed by the Forty-Fifth General Assembly.

Chicago Charter, Local Option, Drainage, Insurance Reforms and Pure Food Considered the most Important.

Chicago Charter, Local Option, Drainage, Insurance Reforms and Pure Food Considered the most Important.

Springfield.—After a session lasting four months, the Forty-fifth general assembly has passed out of existence so far as the enactment of general laws are concerned. What are the most important pieces of legislation passed by the lawmakers are:

Chicago Charter.

Local Option.

Drainage.

Insurance Reforms.

Pure Food.

Up to a week before adjournment the local option bill was the obstacle that held up legislation. For four months the members indulged in merry warfare, the victory lying sometimes on one side and then on the other. By a supreme effort the measure was at length passed and the current of bills rushed forth. It is the only bill affecting the entire lower state territory. It provides for a vote on local option by cities, towns, villages and election precincts in counties not under township government, and although it is not as extensive in its scope as the Anti-Saloon league officials at first planned, still it is considered a triumph. It does not apply to Chicago.

In fact, the most important of the legislative work is as follows:

Charities Fund.

CHARITIES.—Over $800,000 was lopped off the funds asked to place the state charitable institutions on a higher plane. Although some of the ultra-conservatives objected to the measure, it was passed as "funds and fancies." Funds have been appropriated for hydrotherapeutic equipment, psychiatric hospitals and for the start in the direction of fire protection. One great stride toward humanitarianism is made by a measure providing that the insane now housed in county almshouses shall be placed in state institutions. This bill does not apply to the Dunning institutions. The failure to appropriate funds enough for the board of charities, however, will enable them to abandon many of its plans to ameliorate conditions at the great charitable institutions. One meritorious feature of the charitable enactments is the establishment of a state surgical institution for children, where the crippled and disabled under 16 years, whose parents are poor, may be treated and nursed.

LABOR REFORM MEASURES.—Labor legislation was confined to three measures, although seven were fought for by the organized labor lobby, with the support of the administration. The Sillit bill provides protection for structural iron workers—the scaffolding and shoring of buildings—and it is expected to lessen materially the death-from-accident rate among the workers on bridges and skyscrapers. The rest of the labor legislation is not highly important. One bill raises the death penalty for coal miners from $5,000 to $10,000; the other revises the shot-firing act. The hazardous machinery bill was drafted after a fierce fight. The bill changing the factory inspection bureau into a department, however, carries a clause that will enable the officials to force employers to provide unflagged, sanitary and safe quarters for their employees. The department is empowered to inquire into labor troubles, it is authorized to inspect workshops and bakeries, and its force of inspectors is increased.

Railroad Bills Passed.

RAILROADS.—A two-cent fare bill has been passed, but the prospects are dim. It will be knocked out by the courts on the ground that it is confiscatory. Of the railroad reforms suggested in the governor's message only one goes on the statute book. It gives jurisdiction over crossings to the railroad and the state commission. The others, the bills to prevent watering of stocks and to prevent a uniform system of accounts, were swept from the calendar by the blanket motions to clear the decks for the last day's action. As for the annual pass bill, it was not even given serious consideration in committee.

BANKING LAWS.—The recommendation in the governor's message for a revision of the statutes so as to lessen the chances of more collapses like the Illinois failure was met by the legislators with the passage of a measure drafted by the Illinois State Bankers' association. It knocks out the "dummy" directors; prohibits loans to officers of the bank except on the approval of the directors; gives the depositors the right to petition for a receiver, and empowers the state auditor to suspend the business of the bank pending application for receiver. The original bill suffered several amendments, but as it stands it is considered a long step in the right direction.

Pure Food Regulation.

PURE FOOD.—After many vicissitudes in the house the pure food bill as finally passed contains all the important features of the original measure recommended by Gov. Deneen. State officials say it is an excellent supplement to the federal statute, and that its enactment will keep Illinois from becoming the dumping ground of the nation. It enables the state pure-food commissioner to set the standards of purity and strength; provides that grains shall be colored only under official supervision, and that they shall be tagged and permits the sale of "blended" whiskeys only when the bottle bears a conspicuous label. Another bill gives the live stock commission the right to condemn diseased cattle, hogs, and all animals intended for food which are found to be infected with contagious or infectious diseases.

Health Powers Enlarged.

HEALTH MEASURES.—The state board of health is given additional powers to enforce quarantines against the spread of contagious or infectious diseases, and is given an appropriation large enough to put into operation some of its plans for extending the work of the laboratory, and for increasing the distribution of anti-toxin. Nurses are required to be registered, a bill being passed for a state board to be appointed by the governor.

COURT PRACTICE.—Sweeping changes in practice and procedure that will cut the courts of much of their ancestral debris are provided through several bills, the most important of which was drafted by a practice commission. A new negotiable instrument law is also among this class of legislation.

Lake to Gulf Water Way.

DEEP WATER WAY AND DRAINAGE.—The first step for a lake-to-gulf channel is provided by a revenue bill that gives funds for building the Evansville and Calumet branches, thus giving enough flow in the present drainage canal for the use by vessels of deep draft. It removes the limit of $200,000 on the bonded indebtedness and increases the rate of taxation on one-half of one percent to one percent. The drainage district is not to be compelled to operate movable bridges over the canal for ten years in place of seven. The bill providing for the extension of the canal to Lake Joliet, to complete step two of the project are still tied up.

INSURANCE REFORMS.—Of the remedial measures advocated by the administration only one—the fire marshal bill—has passed. The life reforms enacted into law are as follows: Standard provisions and prohibitions; amending certificate in the revalidation law; amending section 10, concerning the valuation of insurance policies and providing for modified preliminary term prohibiting misrepresentations by life insurance companies; adding to the present law, enabling powers of the insurance department as to the blank for reports; providing for $100,000 deposit; amending section 11 to correspond with 23, amending section 10, relating to disbursements and providing for a voucher for expenditures more than $100, providing for a vote and roll call of the board of directors for all salaries of $5,000 or more; relating to the investments of the funds of life insurance companies. The Joliet bill, regulating fire insurance done by individual underwriters, Lloyd's and other unincorporated associations and partnerships, was passed.

Chicago Charter.

CHIEF FEATURES OF CHARTER AS PASSED BY THE LEGISLATURE.

1. The council of the city is consolidated under a city park commission, appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council.

2. A bonded indebtedness of five percent upon the actual value instead of upon one-fifth or assessed value of property in the city is authorized.

3. The board of education is to consist of 15 members instead of 21, appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council.

4. The mayor is no longer to act as presiding officer of the city council, the council being empowered to select its own presiding officer and the mayor given a seat in the council, but no vote.

5. The council of education is to be divided into 50 wards and one alderman is to be elected from each ward for a term of four years. Aldermen are to be paid $2,500 a year.

6. Changes in the charter may be made without future action by the legislature and acts of the legislature applying to cities are not to apply to Chicago unless it is expressly stated.

WHAT MADE HIM DOUBTFUL.

Size of Commuter's Hat Caused Acquaintance to Worry.

A commuters on the D. L. & W. remarked to a friend the other morning, as they came into the city:

"Hawkins, of Stamford, is going to move into that new house next door to me. I know him very slightly, and I understand that you know him pretty well."

"Yes, I have known him for upward of 20 years."

"Well, what kind of a fellow is he, anyhow?" asked the commuter.

"A first-rate fellow, and in every way desirable. Why?"

"I just wanted to know, because I could never quite make up my mind about him, he wears such a small hat."—Philadelphia Ledger.

BABY'S ECZEMA GREW WORSE.

Hospitals and Doctors Could Not Relieve Him—But Cuticura Remedies a Speedy, Permanent Cure.

"Eczema appeared when our baby was three months old. We applied to several doctors and hospitals, each of which gave us something different every time, but nothing brought relief. At last, one of our friends recommended to us Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. A few days afterwards improvement could be noted. Since then we have used nothing but Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and now the baby is six months old and is quite cured. All that we used was one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes Cuticura Ointment, costing in all $1.25. C. F. Kna, 343 East 65th Street, New York, March 30, 1905."

HAS SLEPT FORTY DAYS.

Peculiar Case of I. C. Webster in Kansas City Hospital.

Kansas City.—T. C. Webster, who was taken from an east-bound train here on April 2 unconscious and removed to the City hospital, has slept constantly for the past 40 days and is still asleep. Physicians say he is suffering from acute melancholia.

Webster is 60 years old. He was traveling from Horseshoe Bend, Idaho, to Gainesville, Ga. He became delirious on the trip from Denver to Kansas City and was unconscious when he reached here. Since that time he has been aroused sufficiently to take nourishment, but at no time has he been thoroughly awake. None of his relatives or friends have visited him since he was taken to the hospital.

Hundreds See Two Drown.

La Crosse, Wis.—While 200 people watched them from the shore Sunday, V. Vancamp, E. O. Ellsworth and Rosa Wright attempted to cross the Mississippi river in a small rowboat. The boat upset and Vancamp and the girl were drowned.

Carlist Club in Madrid Mobbed.

Madrid.—A mob of Republicans Sunday mobbed the Carlist club, and the office of the Carlist newspaper at Victoria. There was lively street fighting.

Perfect Womanhood

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some derangement of the feminine organs.

Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their health, barely in time to save their lives.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, irregularities or the "blues," she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as the great woman's remedy for woman's ills, made only of roots and herbs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It cures Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and all Organic Diseases, and is invaluable in the Change of Life. It dissolves and Expels Tumors at an early stage. Subdues Faintness, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole female system. It is an excellent remedy for derangements of the Kidneys in either sex.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

W. T. Stead, like a good many other foreigners, apparently continues to stay in America for the pleasure of finding fault with it.

The bureau of corporations is busily engaged in finding out whether there is a Lumber Trust so as to see whether it needs investigating.

The treasury department announces that the per capita circulation last month was $34.95. We can account for all of our share in it except the $34.

With these charges and counter charges of forgery in the life insurance election, it seems to be rapidly narrowing down to a question of who did it first.

J. Edward Addicks says that he will shake the dust of America from his feet. But those who know him have little doubt that he will retain a fair amount of it in his pockets.

This suggestion of Speaker Cannon for vice president is probably impracticable. But there certainly would be a lot of things doing it "Uncle Joe" ever took charge as president of the senate.

Col. Bryan says that the Democratic party should "deal kindly and considerately with Mr. Hearst." Now from Mr. Hearst's attitude it would appear he had a notion he was going to be the one to deal junk that way with the Democratic party.

News has been received at the state department of the breaking off of diplomatic relations between Mexico and Guatemala with mingled emotions. Of course a war anywhere is officially regretted, and especially in the case of war on this continent, the government stands ready to offer good offices and any other sort of first aid to the injured that is available. But in the trouble between Mexico and Guatemala, Mexico seems to have all the best of the argument in the point of equality and she is coming to the front as a power in the affairs of the western hemisphere, so that it is possible this government will watch her disciplining her small southern neighbor with more or less satisfaction. Mexico has developed rapidly and well in the last decade. There is an immense amount of American capital invested in the country and she has very largely lived down her former reputation for political brain-storm. Her development can be watched by this country with satisfaction and without envy, and if she proves her ability and willingness to spank some of the turbulent little republics near her when they need it, there will be a large part of the "White Man's Burden" lifted off the shoulders of this government.

The government is looking for from 500 to 1,000 hardy, industrious farmers to accept farms on a rather novel plan for little or nothing. There are strong efforts being made by the government now to settle up irrigable west. The call for volunteer farmers is part of this campaign. There is about 75,000 acres of land, good farming land, much of it already under ditch and more being put there on the Utah Indian reservation. This is the reservation from which a war party of Utes recently broke away and went on a spree through Wyoming and South Dakota. The Indians do not want the land and will not farm it, so the government is willing to rent it out to American farmers at 25 cents per acre per year with the privilege of buying it in fee simple when the Indians to whom it has been allotted die off. The land is at a fine altitude, 5,000 feet, with a fertile soil and even climate. All temperate zone crops do well there and there is an excellent market for everything that can be raised at good prices. It offers a rather exceptional opportunity for farmers who want to start their boys off in a fine locality at little expense. Details of the plans for apportioning the farms can be had on application from the commissioner of Indian affairs at Washington.

My Best Friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Fort Edward, N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equalled it. Fully guaranteed by J. H. Swan, druggist, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

When your food has not been properly digested the entire system is impaired in the same proportion. Your stomach needs help. Kodol for indigestion and dyspepsia not only digests what you eat, it tones the stomach and adds strength to the whole body. Makes rich, pure blood. INTERESTING ITEMS FROM THIS AND OTHER NEARBY COUNTIES

It is said the Milk Products Co. of Cary, Ill., has gone into the hands of a receiver. A mortgage of $27,000 was filed against the company at the office of the county clerk at Woodstock recently. The property is valued at $37,000. The farmers who were patrons of the company claim that they have something like $9,000 coming to them.

Thos. McCabe of Wauconda met with quite a serious accident one day last week. He had just returned from hunting and was standing in the barn, unconsciously leaning so that his right arm was resting on the barrel of the loaded shot gun. In some manner the gun was discharged, the entire charge passing through his arm. He was immediately hurried to a physician who dressed the wound. Although the accident is not a serious one it is very painful, but Mr. McCabe is congratulating himself that it is no worse.

Vandals have been doing malicious mischief on the fair grounds this spring. Some time ago a number of trees were purchased and set out at a considerable expense to the management, with a view of beautifying the grounds. A few days ago it was discovered that some person or persons have broken the limbs from a number of the trees. The branches were not completely stripped from the trees but were broken and twisted and tied in knots then with things to the body of the trees, thus showing that the mischief was intentional and not the work of animals or children. The authorities will prosecute to the fullest extent of the law if the culprits are captured.

One of the few cases of a person being declared legally dead, happened at Aurora when Sigmund Waldner was so declared last fall by Judge Williams and the insurance of $1,000 carried by Waldner in the Modern Woodmen was paid on Thursday last to the widow. On the 19th of June 1899, Waldner, who lived on a farm, was found sleeping on a couch by his family when they returned in the evening from a Sunday visit. They retired without disturbing him, and in the morning he had disappeared. The neighboring country was searched and the police of the nearby cities notified, but no trace of him was ever found. Last September the Judge declared him legally dead, the legal period of seven years having elapsed, and the insurance policy had been kept up by Mrs. Waldner was paid by the Woodmen.

An exchange says: Every family should have a curfew which should positively "ring tonight" and every night if needed. These curfews are inexpensive, and can be home made. Take a piece of siding two feet long and whittle one end down to a handle, then take the child that needs the curfew and bend him over a barrel. Now take the piece of siding in the hand and use it for a clapper. Pot it on hot. Divide the strokes evenly and see that none miss. Good for a boy or girl up to the age of sixteen, and applications are warranted to cure the most pronounced cases of street loafing that exist. The music this curfew makes is finer than singing "where is my wandering boy tonight?"

We are decidedly of the opinion that were this advice followed for awhile there would be very little need of juvenile courts.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and one dollar bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Dr. Liebig, the famous German Chemist, says that beer is "liquid bread." By this he means that beer is a food—full of life-giving, health-sustaining qualities. The value of beer as a food is becoming well known, and it is now used by many who have hitherto looked upon it as a beverage only.

Pabst Blue Ribbon

The Beer of Quality

is the most nourishing of all beers—because it contains every particle of the healthful, wholesome nutriment of the malt and all the tonic properties of the hops from which it is made. The Pabst Eight-Day Malting Process follows nature by slowly transforming the substance of the barley into pure, nutritious food. The quality of the materials used and the Pabst method of brewing make Pabst Blue Ribbon not only a pure beer, but a healthful, tissue-building, muscle-building, life-giving, "liquid bread." Drink Pabst Blue Ribbon, and you put health and strength into your system.

When ordering beer, ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon. Made by Pabst at Milwaukee And bottled only at the Brewery.

Although Ingleside is but a new town it is surely and steadily growing and branching out. New residences and business places are constantly being put up. Among the latter is a new barber shop which is being fitted up and which will be conducted by Eugene Hawkins, Jr.

In the case of the New York life insurance company vs. Grace Minnis held in the court of Justice Van Dusen Saturday, a verdict against the defendant was returned and judgement entered in the sum of $78. Miss Minnis was one of the school teachers who subscribed for life insurance and later tried to drop it unsuccessfully. She claimed fraud had been used in getting her to sign.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Lem Barthel accomplished a daring feat of horsemanship, when she succeeded unaided, in driving a fractious colt past a steam thrasher in the main street, after the animal had become frightened by having the machine come up behind, when it was hitched in front of the store. It was a risky task and one that few men would have dared to undertake.

The postmaster general has issued an order or notice that all rural mail carriers have the right of way on all country roads, and that all other carriages or conveyances must surrender that right of way to the rural carrier. That was the rule when the mails were carried in four-horse stage coaches, and every one had to get out of the way when the mail coach came along. It is a very serious matter to obstruct the rapid transportation of the United States mails.

There are so many earthquakes? Their only charm is novelty, and that is wearing off.

But the real American dementia and brain storm center will be found on the ball ground.

The government printing bill has been cut $2,000,000 the past year. That helps some in Panama.

Paris waiters may want to wear mustaches to hide their smiles when foreign diners try to talk French.

English courts are enforcing that anti-tipping law. What a change for the tourists in "dear old Lunnnon!"

Critic says Canadians are breezy, but he may have been introduced to a few who were putting on a lot of airs.

The Philadelphia man charged with having 150 wives scattered throughout the country probably does not believe in family reunions.

King Edward keeps up his reputation as a lover of travel, but he can't have the fun he did when the throne was far away in the uncertain future.

There are hopeful signs that most of the members of the douma realize that their usefulness depends on keeping their temper. It's hard, but necessary.

Ambassador Bryce smokes a well-seasoned pipe while he is at work. There is no other way by which the true literary atmosphere can be created, maybe.

The New York legislator who would enact a law requiring all automobiles to have fenders might have gone a little further and asked that no one but a surgeon be allowed to drive a motor car.

W. T. Stead says he can't understand why a man should stand up for the purpose of letting a lady have a seat in a street car. He needn't worry. It isn't likely that he will ever have a seat to offer.

There's scarcely anything which can fairly be called news in the announcement that the defeated president of Honduras will plot a new war, from his place of refuge in Mexico. That's what an ex-president is for, in Central America.

Col. Henry Watterson's latest message home is an expression of his opinion that if the people of the United States could visit Spain and take a look around, they would go back home mightily well pleased with themselves and their own government.

A New York minister apologized to his congregation from his pulpit the other Sunday for having written a "no-account" novel. He said he never would repeat the offense and would do his best to suppress this production. Now if the novel writing laity will go and do likewise much will be forgiven them. Their sins are many.

Not many Americans pass these spring evenings in reading the philosophy of Immanuel Kant, but whether they realize it or not, their ways of thinking are permanently affected by this little man who died in Konigsberg a hundred years ago. His ashes are to be transferred to the cathedral, to a tomb beside those of Prussian kings, and a splendid monument is to be erected to him.

At Penon, Mexico, a suburb of Mexico City, may be seen what is perhaps the smallest church in the world. It nestles under the shadow of a small volcano. The church is about ten feet high and 12 feet wide. Modern Mexico says: "Whenever a couple is married at the little altar of the church there is barely room for the groom and bride to turn around at the same time."

It was not the heavens, but the ceiling of the assembly hall, which fell in Russia the other day, a few hours before the Duma had assembled. The accident was caused by loading the rafters with too heavy ventilating apparatus. The Duma itself is a good ventilating-machine for the Russian unrest. Let us hope, says Youth's Companion, that it may be heavy enough only to break down Russian oppression.

Mothers and other humane persons will agree with the remarks of a lecturer in the Harvard Medical School, who said the other day, in speaking of the persons who had asked him whether it is worth while to save the lives of diseased babies, "I reply that no baby ought to die. It is the brain which, after all, does the work, better or less well, according to the physical development. We cannot judge beforehand at birth what the individual may become later."

The earthquake penon seems to have been fully inaugurated. The shocks which worked devastation in Mexico were followed by others felt across the water, and even the castles in Spain were badly wrenched, though there is no report of actual destruction.

There is a strong suspicion that it will be a good deal easier to establish a place for a colony in Colorado for the relief of the poor from the congested districts of New York than it will to get those same poor to occupy it.

THE DELUGE

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS, Author of "THE COST," etc.
(Copyright 1905 by the BOBBY-NEEDLE COMPANY)

CHAPTER XXV.—Continued.

"If you will save me," I continued, "I will transfer to you, in a block, all my Coal holdings. They will be worth double my total liabilities within three months—as soon as the reorganization is pronounced. I leave it entirely to your sense of justice whether I shall have my part of them back when this storm blows over."

"Why didn't you go to Roebuck?" he asked without looking up.

"Because it is he that stuck the knife into me."

"Why?"

"I don't know. I suspect the Manasque properties, which I brought into the combine, have some value, which no one but Roebuck, and perhaps Langdon, knows about—and that I in some way was dangerous to them through that fact. They haven't given me time to look into it."

A grim smile flitted over the face.

"You've been too busy getting married, eh?"

"Exactly," said I. "It's another case of unbuckling for the wedding-feast and getting assassinated as a penalty. Do you wish me to explain anything on that list—do you want any details of the combine—of the Coal stocks there?"

"Not necessary," he replied. As I had thought, with that enormous machine of his for drawing in information, and with that enormous memory of his for details, he probably knew more about the combine and its properties than I did.

"You have heard of the lockout?"

I inquired—for I wished him to know I had no intention of deceiving him as to the present market value of those stocks.

"Roebuck has been commanded by his God," he said, "to eject the free American labor from the coal regions and to substitute importations of coolie Huns and Bohemians. Thus, the wicked American laborers will be chastened for trying to get higher wages and cut down a pious man's dividends; and the downtrodden coolies will be brought where they can enjoy the blessings of liberty and of the preaching of Roebuck's missionaries."

I laughed, though he had not smiled, but had spoken as if stating colorless facts. "And righteousness and Roebuck will prevail," said I.

He frowned slightly, a sardonic grin breaking the straight, thin, cruel line of his lips. He opened his table's one shallow drawer, and took out a pad and a pencil. He wrote a few words on the lowest part of the top sheet, folded it, tore off the part he had scribbled on, returned the pad and pencil to the drawer, handed the scrap of paper to me. "I will do it," he said.

"Give this to Mr. Farquhar, second door to the left. Good morning." And in that atmosphere of vast affairs speedily dispatched his consent without argument seemed, and was, the matter-of-course.

I bowed. Though he had not saved me as a favor to me, but because it fitted in with his plans, whatever they were, my eyes dimmed. "I shan't forget this," said I, my voice not quite steady.

"I know it," said he curtly. "I know you."

I saw that his mind had already turned me out. I said no more, and withdrew. When I left the room it was precisely as it had been when I entered it—except the bit of paper torn from the pad. But what a difference to me, to the thousands, the hundreds of thousands directly and indirectly interested in the Coal combine and its strike and its products, was represented by those few, almost illegible scrawlings on that scrap of paper.

Not until I had gone over the situation with Farquhar, and we had signed and exchanged the necessary papers, did I begin to relax from the strain—how great that strain was I realized a few weeks later, when the gray appeared thick at my temples and there was in my crown what was, for such a shock as mine, a thin spot.

"I am saved!" said I to myself, venturing a long breath, as I stood on the steps, of Galloway's establishment, where hourly was transacted business vitally affecting the welfare of scores of millions of human beings, with James Galloway's personal interest as the sole guiding principle. "Saved!" I repeated, and not until then did it flash before me, "I must have paid a frightful price. He would never have consented to interfere with Roebuck as soon as I asked him to do it, unless there had been some powerful motive. If I had had my wits about me, I could have made far better terms."

Why hadn't I my wits about me? "Anita" was my instant answer to my own question. "Anita again. I had a bad attack of family man's panic." And thus it came about that I went back to my office, feeling as if I had suffered a severe defeat, instead of jubilant over my narrow escape.

Joe followed me into my den. "What luck?" asked he, in the tone of a mother waylaying the doctor as he issues from the sick-room.

"Luck?" said I, gazing blankly at him.

"You've seen the latest quotation, haven't you?" In his nervousness his temper was on a fine edge.

"No," replied I indifferently. I sat down at my desk and began to busy myself. Then I added: "We're out of the Coal combine. I've transferred our holdings. Look after these things, please." And I gave him the checks, notes and memoranda of agreement.

"Galloway!" he exclaimed. And then his eye fell on the totals of the stock I had been carrying. "Good God, Matt!" he gasped. "Ruined!"

And he sat down, and buried his face and cried like a child—it was then that I measured the full depth of the chasm I had escaped. I made no such exhibition of myself, but when I tried to re-light my cigar my hand trembled so that the flame scorched my lips.

"Ruined?" I said to Joe, easily enough. "Not at all. We're back in the road, going smoothly ahead—only, at a bit less stiff a pace. Think Joe, of all those poor devils down in the mining districts. They're out—clear out—and thousands of 'em don't know where their families will get bread. And though they haven't found it out yet, they've got to leave the place where they've lived all their lives, and their fathers before them—have got to go wandering about in a world that's as strange to them as the surface of the moon, and as bare for them as the Sahara desert."

"That's so," said Joe. "It's hard luck." But I saw he was thinking only of himself and his narrow escape from having to give up his big house and all the rest of it; that, sort-hearted and generous though he was, to those poor chaps and their wives and children he wasn't giving a thought.

"You've done a grand two hours' work," said Joe.

"Grander than you think," replied I. "I've set the tiger on to fight the bull."

"Galloway and Roebuck?"

"Just that," said I. And I laughed, started up, sat down again. "No, I'll put off the pleasure," said I. "I'll let Roebuck find out, when the claws catch in that tough old hide of his."

XXVI.

A CONSPIRACY AGAINST ANITA.

On about the hottest afternoon of that summer I had the yacht take me down the Sound to a point on the Connecticut shore within sight of Dawn Hill, but seven miles farther from New York. I landed at the private pier of Howard Forrester, the only brother of Anita's mother. As I stepped upon the pier I saw a fine-looking old man in the pavilion overlooking the water. He was dressed all in white except a sky-blue tie that harmonized with the color of his eyes. He was neither fat nor lean, and his smooth skin was protesting ruddily against the age proclaimed by his wool-white hair. He rose as I came toward him, and, while I was still several yards away, showed unmistakably that he knew who I was and that he was anything but glad to see me.

"Mr. Forrester?" I asked.

He grew purple to the line of his thick white hair. "It is, Mr. Blacklock," said he. "I have the honor to wish you good day, sir." And with that he turned his back on me and gazed out toward Long Island.

"I have come to ask a favor of you, sir," said I, as polite to that hostile back as if I had been addressing a cordial face. And I waited.

He wheeled round, looked at me from head to foot. I withstood the inspection calmly; when it was ended I noted that in spite of himself he was somewhat relaxed from the opinion of me he had formed upon what he had heard and read. But he said: "I do not know you, sir, and I do not wish to know you."

"You have made me painfully aware of that," replied I. "But I have learned not to take snap judgments too seriously. I never go to a man unless I have something to say to him, and I never leave until I have said it."

"I perceive, sir," retorted he. "You have the thick skin necessary to living up to that rule." And the twinkle in his eyes betrayed the man who delights to exercise a real or imaginary talent for caustic wit. Such men are like nettles—dangerous only to the timid touch.

"On the contrary," replied I, easy in mind now, though I did not anger him by showing it. "I am most sensitive to insults—insults to myself. But you are not insulting me. You are insulting a purely imaginary, hearsay person who is, I venture to as she has been accustomed. I know she would not take it from me. So, I have come to ask you to pretend to give it to her—I, of course, giving it to you to give."

Again we looked full and fixedly each at the other. "Come to the house, Blacklock," he said at last in a tone that was the subtlest of compliments. And he linked his arm in mine. Halfway to the rambling stone house, severe in its lines, yet fine and homelike, quaintly resembling its owner, as a man's house always should, he paused. "I owe you an apology," said he. "After all my experience of this world of envy and malice, I should have recognized the man even in his caricatures of his enemies. And you brought the best possible credentials—you are well hated. To be well hated by the human race and by the creatures mounted on its back is a distinction, sir. It is the crown of the true kings of this world."

We seated ourselves on the wide veranda; he had champagne and water brought, and cigars; and we proceeded to get acquainted—nothing formal cordiality and sympathy like an initial misunderstanding. It was a good hour before this kind-hearted, hard-soft, typical old-fashioned New Englander reverted to the subject of my visit. Said he: "And now young man, may I venture to ask some extremely personal questions?"

"In the circumstances," replied I, "you have the right to know everything. I did not come to you without first making sure what manner of man I was to find."

At this he blushed, pleased as a girl at her first beau's first compliment. "And you, Mr. Forrester, can not be expected to embark in the little adventure I propose, until you have satisfied your self."

"First, the why of your plan."

"I am in active business," replied I, "and I shall be still more active. That means financial uncertainty."

His suspicion of me started up from its dose and rubbed its eyes. "Ah! You wish to insure yourself."

"Yes," was my answer, "but not in the way you hint. It takes away a man's courage just when he needs it most, to feel that his family is involved in his venture."

"Why do you not make the settlement direct?" he asked, partly reassured.

"Because I wish her to feel that it is her own, that I have no right over it whatever."

He thought about this. His eyes were keen as he said, "Is that your real reason?"

I saw I must be unreserved with him. "Part of it," I replied. "The rest is—she would not take it from me."

The old man smiled cynically. "Have you tried?" he inquired.

"If I had tried and failed, she would have been on the alert for an indirect attempt."

"Try her, young man," said he, laughing. "In this day there are few people anywhere who'd refuse any sum from anybody for anything. And a woman—and a New York woman—and a New York fashionable woman—and a daughter of old Ellersley—she'll take it as a baby takes the breast."

"She would not take it," said I.

My tone, though I strove to keep angry protest out of it, because I needed him, caused him to draw back instantly. "I beg your pardon, said he. "I forgot for the moment that I was talking to a man young enough still to have youth's delusions about women. You'll learn that they're human, that it's from them we men inherit our weaknesses. However, let's assume that she won't take it. Why won't she take your money? What is there about it that repels Ellersley's daughter, brought up in the sewers of fashionable New York—the sewers, sir!"

"She does not love me," I answered.

"I have hurt you," he said quickly, in great distress at having compelled me to expose my secret wound.

"The wound does not ache the worse," said I, "for my showing it—to you." And that was the truth. I looked over toward Dawn Hill whose towers could just be seen. "We live there," I pointed. "She is—like a guest in my house."

When I glanced at him again, his face betrayed a feeling of which I doubt if any one had thought him capable in many a year. "I see that you love her," he said, gently as a mother.

"Yes," I replied. And presently I went on: "The idea of any one I love being dependent on me in a sordid way is most distasteful to me. And since she does not love me, does not even like me, it is doubly necessary that she be independent."

"I confess I do not quite follow you," said he.

"How can she accept anything from me? If she should finally be compelled by necessity to do it, what hope could I have of her ever feeling toward me as a wife should feel toward her husband?"

At this explanation of mine his eyes sparkled with anger—and I could not but suspect that he had at one time in his life been faced with a problem like mine, and had settled it the other way. My suspicion was not weakened when he went on to say:

"Boish motives again! They show you do not know women. Don't be deceived by their delicate exterior, by their pretenses of super-refinement. They affect to be what passion excludes us into thinking them. But they're clay, sir, just clay, and far less sensitive than we men. Don't you see, young man, that by making her independent you're throwing away your best chance of winning her? Women are like dogs—like dogs, sir! They lick the hand that feeds 'em—lick it, and like it."

CARE IN WASHING STOCKINGS

Are Too Often Considered as of Importance.

We all know the ordinary laundry, most "runners" way of washing stockings, using the rinsing water left after the white clothes, which gives them a coating of white lint, both hoary and disagreeable. These things ought not so to be.

The first essential in washing stockings is to have an absolutely clear, clean soap solution in tepid water. Shake the stockings to remove all the dust possible, put in right side out, rub well, turn and rub on the wrong side. If the color is at all delicate, rub the feet first, then the legs, so as not to leave long in the water. Rinse thoroughly, wring dry and hang from the tops of the stockings, so that if the water settles, leaving a little discoloration, it will be in the toe instead of the leg.

The black stockings now are usually fast. If the colored stockings show signs of running or fading, they may be set with alum or salt, remembering, however, that alum sets dirt as well as color.

Silk stockings should be washed and rinsed in lukewarm water and wrung between towels. Iron stockings from the toe, following up to the heel, then fold the leg with the seam in the middle, leaving the foot increased.

TO BROIL A STEAK.

Only Way If One Would Retain Delicate Flavor.

Few housewives understand the art of broiling and consequently chops and steaks are often robbed of their delicate flavor by frying in a pan.

A steak or chop properly broiled should have a thin, well-browned crust. Beyond this crust the meat should be red and juicy, hardly a shade less done in the middle than near the surface.

If the broiling be done on a range, have the fire very bright and clear. Open every draft that smoke and flame may be drawn up the chimney. Place the piece of meat in the double broiler and hold it as near the coals as possible until the surface is brown, turning frequently. It will take three or four minutes for this. Now raise the broiler several inches above the bed of coals and continue the cooking until the meat is done.

The broiler must be turned often. A good rule is to count ten slowly, then turn the broiler. A steak or chop cut a little more than an inch thick will cook nicely in ten minutes. If liked well done it should be cooked for 12 minutes.

Stewed Rhubarb.

Stewed rhubarb for breakfast or luncheon must not fail when it is the cheapest and best thing of the vegetable world on the market. Cut up the rhubarb, pour boiling water over it and then drain in a colander and cool. Pack the pieces tightly in quart cans; fill the cans to overflowing with water that has been boiled, strained and cooled in ice. Seal quickly when the can is overflowing and tighten with the can wrench. Invert and put immediately in a cool, dry place. When opened for winter use, drain off all the water and let the fruit stand in fresh cold water half an hour. This is by far the best manner of preserving this fruit for winter pies or where it is used like the fresh variety. Strawberries, cherries (not pitted) and red currants are canned in this way, but the other methods are better. The fruit is not scalded first.

New in Blanc-Mange.

Let us never forget the good, old-fashioned blanc-mange. It is said that Irish moss is coming in style. It is a delicious dessert for invalids. Stir one tablespoonful of cornstarch, wet with two tablespoonfuls of cold milk, into one-half cupful of scalded milk seasoned with a little salt and sugar; cook in double boiler until it thickens; then fold in the stiffly beaten white of one egg, one teaspoonful vanilla extract and pour into crystal or dainty china cups; set on ice to become chilled. When serving, place on the top of each a marshmallow or French candied cherry, surrounded with another one cut into sections to represent petals of a flower. If preferred, the blanc-mange can be unmolded onto a saucer and surrounded with plain cream.

Cheap Raised Cake.

Into a pint of lukewarm sweet milk put a cup of sugar, a well-beaten egg, a tablespoonful of butter, half a dozen cardamom seeds which have been pounded fine, a little salt, half a yeast cake which has been dissolved in a little warm water, and flour enough to make a moderately stiff batter. Let this rise over night, and in the morning work it the same as bread, put it in breadpans, let it rise a short time in the pan, and bake in a medium oven. This will make a deep loaf and should be cut in slices. It is also delicious for sandwiches when spread with some of the fancy cheeses which have been made smooth with milk.

Ironing of Flannels.

After drying, the flannels may be finished by folding evenly, or, if preferred, by ironing with cool iron.

This without doubt gives them a much better appearance. But as the warmth of flannel depends to a great extent on its soft, woolly surface, it is a pity to deprive it of this by ironing, especially in the case of garments that are worn as underwear.

Ironing presses the soft fibres into the material, making it less comfortable. They should instead be well shaken and pulled into good order, folded evenly, aired and put away.

Quick Wit Saved Life.
A captured Turkish officer, on being led forth to execution, asked for a glass of water before he died. On receiving it, he looked uneasily around, as if afraid of assassination. "Drink!" said the commander. "No harm shall come to thee until thou hast drunk that water." Instantly the prisoner dashed the water on the sandy ground, and thereby saved his life.—Sunday Magazine.

For a cold or a cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is better than any other cough remedy because its laxative principle assures a healthy, copious action of the bowels and at the same time it heals irritation of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes and allays inflammation of the mucous membrane. Contains honey and tar, pleasant to take. Children like it. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by J. H. Swan

T would not take us long to SHOW YOU the wisdom of buying your Suits, Coats, Skirts, Waists, Millinery and other wearables at this store. We would SHOW YOU where you could save money and at the same time secure the highest grade and most stylish garments. If we could meet you face to face in this store the goods we offer would SHOW YOU the folly of a trip to the big city and its elbowing crowd and dangerous crossings.

We would SHOW YOU what real shopping comfort is in a perfectly appointed store with a mammoth stock of goods to select from.

We have and ought to have the patronage of most of the particular women in Lake County—we ought to have all of yours and would have if you would come in and let us SHOW YOU.

We would like to SHOW YOU right now the marked savings you can make here on all Suits, Coats, Skirts, Waists, Millinery, etc., due to the backward season.

If we could meet you face to face we could SHOW YOU how we have grown from one small store to three—No. 2 opening at Kenosha Saturday, and No. 3 at Racine Sept. 1—why we have the confidence of women buyers who know values at a glance

We can SHOW YOU merchants. We talk facts, not fancies—we will SHOW YOU that our confidence in the superiority of our goods is so strong, and rightly so, that we are justified in advertising "if goods are not satisfactory, money back."

We want to SHOW YOU; it means money in YOUR pocket if you will let us.

On purchases of $5 and over we refund carfare to all points on the electric line.
